Welcome to your inner-city pad, mixing the industrial past with a twist of inner-urban future design. From the outside, E-Street's brickwork finish and feature arched window pay homage to the factories of old.

Step inside and you'll be blown away by the grand two-story void over the dining area, and an inviting upper floor walkway that leads out onto your very own rooftop bar. This home was made for entertainment, are you ready to start the clock?
